Dear Representatives Davis, Horn, Gonzalez, Schrader, Wagner and Torres Small,

The undersigned organizations representing consumers, family members, mental health and addiction providers, advocates, and other stakeholders would like to express our strong support for the bipartisan Health Care Protection Act (H.R. 6810).

The COVID-19 national emergency has led to historic job loss in the U.S. with 38.6 million Americans filing for unemployment insurance as of May 15.¹ Economists estimate that 16.2 million workers have lost their employer-provided health insurance.² Although there are options for acquiring new coverage through the Affordable Care Act (ACA) marketplace or applying for Medicaid, these options can mean a change in covered benefits, provider networks, and/or restarting a deductible.

Moreover, job loss is associated with increased depression, anxiety, distress and low self-esteem and may lead to higher rates of substance use disorder and suicide.³ Prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, 47 million U.S. adults reported having a mental illness in the past year and 17 million adults and 3 million adolescents had a major depressive episode in the past year.⁴ Research has shown large-scale disasters, whether traumatic, natural, or environmental are almost always accompanied by increases in depression, posttraumatic stress disorder (PTSD), substance use disorder, a broad range of other mental and behavioral disorders, domestic violence, and child abuse⁵. The Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS) epidemic in 2003 left the country with increases in PTSD, stress, and psychological distress in patients and clinicians.⁶

As COBRA coverage is prohibitively expensive, the bipartisan Health Care Protection Act would provide critical subsidies to COBRA eligible individuals for six months. Subsidies would be equal to the employer contribution if the employee were still employed. Additionally, the legislation includes a special ACA open
